Other wage components

The wage conditions may provide for other benefits for work, which are provided as optional wage components, e.g. additional pay or allowances for work:

- in the afternoon work shifts,
- in split shifts,
- at heights,
- or the provision of various types of bonuses or other wage incentives.

The scope of such benefits, including the conditions for providing the same, may be agreed with the employer by employees' representatives in a collective agreement or in the employment contract.
